

MOJAJI - Storing rain water in tanks

Providing rainwater storage will on all accounts probable be mandatory soon. For those of you who do not like the unsightly standard round green or brown plastic tanks, here is an alternative!

Mojaji rain barrels are custom built in any shape or size (rectangular, round, etc.). It basically consists of a rubber bladder (i.e. material used by rubber duck boats) concealed and supported by a steel frame, beautified by Carriwood planking.
